We had an amazing day yesterday celebrating Pollinator Day at the market, watching "Hometown Habitat" at Victory Hall Theater, and collaborating with the James River Association and incredible volunteers to "Paint our Pollution"! Thank you to all that came out!

Our Pollinator Day event, hosted by our committee, brought together over 100 attendees, vendors and educators in downtown Scottsville to celebrate the importance of pollinators, increase awareness of their threats, and support organizations trying to make an impact.

POLLINATOR HEALTH & HABITAT

Removed invasive species from pollinator garden and creek-side riparian buffer in town in two separate events each with multiple volunteers. Also tended flower gardens and planted new native species at multiple park sites.
